Higher education begins at the age of 18 (the minimum), both right after and completed and "Technical and Technical High School Education". The entry into these categories is through competitive exams obtained from a national exam for secondary schools.
 Higher education system in Turkey is managed by the Council of Higher Education (YÖK - Yükseköğretim Kurulu) which is an autonomous body fully responsible for the planning, coordination, governance and supervision of higher education within the province set forth by the Constitution of the Turkish Republic and the Higher Education Law. Both state and non-profit foundation universities are licensed by law and supervised by the Higher Education Council and the regulatory boards in accordance with it.
 Higher education in Turkey comprises at least secondary higher education programmes, consisting of open, first, second, and third cycle degrees in terms of the nomenclature of the Bologna Process. The structure of Turkish higher education degrees is based on a semester system, except for doctoral, pharmacy, dentistry and veterinary medicine programmes which have a one-semester system. The duration of these studies programmes is five years (160 ECTS) except for dentistry which takes six years (240 ECTS). The qualifications to these one-semester programmes are equivalent to the first cycle (Bachelor's) programme (160 ECTS) degree. Undergraduate level of study consists of open cycle (Bachelor's) (160 ECTS) degree and first cycle (Doctoral) (180 ECTS) degree which are awarded after successful completion of Turkish Higher Cycle (160 ECTS) and First Cycle (180 ECTS) study programmes, respectively.
 Graduate level of study consists of second cycle (Master's) (90 ECTS) degree programmes and third cycle (Doctoral) (180 ECTS) degree programmes. Second cycle is divided into two sub-cycles namely an applied and research cycle. Master programme without thesis and master programme with thesis require 60 and 90 ECTS credits, respectively. For these students, successful completion of the programme results additional courses at 60 ECTS credits.
 Admission of national systems to enter and first cycle degree programmes is controlled and based on a nationwide nationwide examination conducted on a nationwide public level (university entrance and placement exam-YSY). Candidates gain scores in universities of higher education based on their composite score consisting of the scores on the national examination and their high school diploma average. Admission to graduate programmes is directly conducted by the higher education institutions (HEIs) either the statements of the publicly available national and institutional regulations. Evaluation of foreign students in programmes at all levels of higher education can be done for direct application of universities in which based on publicly available national and institutional regulations.
 The Turkish National Qualification Framework for Higher Education (TYK) - The National Qualification Framework for Higher Education in Turkey (TYK) document sets out the levels of the Turkish higher education level and the EQF for Turkey having been adopted by the Council of Ministers in 2013.
